Transformation

There can't be a publication worse than The Chanticleer— the pictures are truly representative of Duke life, that is if you are an SAE nudist who likes sunsets. If there were any justice, the entire publication would be eradicated and replaced with an entirely new yearbook that more adequately ... What? you want me to write another column? For The Chanticleer ? Ahem, yes— did I mention the artistic integrity and broad scope of the university's award winning yearbook, The Chanticleer ? It fills the heart with wonder and warmth; it tugs at the soul of Duke life. It is truly the rooster that crows to wake us from the gray blankets of sleep to the glorious dawn of the new day that is Duke life. (How is that? Can I write it now, please, please please?) Okay, so classes are done, Myrtle is over, graduation is gone, and I'm convinced that huge chevron hoods are the choice of a new generation. You heard it here first- hoods are the fashion accessory of the nineties. First David Duke, now this Duke graduation thing- hoods are in. Gotta have it. If you've never been to graduation, you should probably go at least once and pick up a slip of paper with neat calligraphy for your eighty grand. Really- it looks good in your desk drawer. Or you could spend some pocket change (can your pockets hold 400 quarters?) and get it in a nifty frame to hang up on the wall of your cardboard box. Ah, the Duke education- intense training waiting in lines so that waiting in the unemployment line after graduation won't seem quite as bad. Maybe Laettner will be able to spare some of the immense amount of pocket change he'll be making for being the next Danny Ferry. "Please Mr. Laettner, oh deific one, can I have a buck for food?" Patrick Ewing's lunch looks down to the enlarging bald spot on your head and says "What? For a little Duke alumnus? Ask B.D. After all he was a top pick, I wasn't. Of course that was in the CBA, ha ha ha ha ha." Then you realize that maybe eating your foot for lunch wasn't such a bad idea after all. As long as we're on the subject of alternative food and beverages, here are the Top 10 Places to Party at Duke: 1) The loading dock of the Bryan Center after a UNC win over Duke. 2) ATO's on Durham SPCA day (Oh yeah - there's nobody left on campus who knows what that refers to. Do it again guys - no wait, you are much smarter then your predecessors. Why don't you hang a horse this time. Prove to everyone that creativity isn't dead at Duke, only morals and ethics are.) 3) Central Campus on Malcolm X's birthday or days of bad trial verdicts. 4) SAE's on coupon day at the BMW dealership. 5) The bumper of Public Safety vans after a night of kegs. 6) Campus Crusade Kool-aid Kegs (special red- Blood-of-Christ flavor.) 7) Biology major receptions that have no real food because they can't possibly bear to eat anything that was once alive. 8) The Public Safety office on the night of big basketball games. You get really cool baseball caps and lots of weaponry to use on people who decide it is much to warm of an evening to actually be wearing clothing. 8.5) The back half of an East-West bus going 50 mph down Campus when you feel a really bad case of bed spins coming on. 9) Sorority rush with a name tag that says "I date a Phi Psi, own lots of dresses you can borrow and will buy you all nose jobs for Christmas if you give me a bid." 10) Second floor of the Allen building when saccharine unpleasant people (who happen to have a lot of money) visit the university. Gotta have priorities. Gotta have it. (I like that slogan - it's even wittier than "It's sit, and that's that" - What?) Coming to your favorite campus the 1992 - 1993 school year from the Duke University Most Beneficial Fun Unilateral Condemnation Committee: Saturday night bridge parties and jump rope contests with lots of BP leftovers generously provided by DUFS (because the BP is really really yummy and you are a bad person if you think otherwise), gallons of tasty Nutrasweet Pepsi and unsweetened tea (because sugar makes children really hyperactive), and lots and lots of Public Safety officers to supervise and direct and make sure everything runs really smoothly. Alcohol will of course be strictly forbidden. If you want nasty stuff like that you should get in your car to go to Chapel Hill to drink and then figure out a way to get home - no one would ever drive home after drinking, of course... Kegs are on the way out as far as the administration is concerned: there are a lot more of you than there are of them - don't let them push you around. It wasn't that long ago that there were curfews and chaperones and a dry campus. So, if a professor in full academic regalia walks by you at graduation (after you've been frisked for bottles of alcohol) and says "It's a good thing to see sober faces instead of inebriated ones," do what I didn't do - Throw up on his shoes. It was a fun four years with lots of awesome basketball (Duke vs. Kentucky, Duke vs. UNLV, Duke vs. U Conn, some great wins over UNC, and, one of my personal favorites: PHIL DUNKED OVER ALONZO) even some great football (Duke 21 Clemson 17 - the only time I've ever seen goal posts carried to main quad and burned with the House D bench.) It was some great profs, some horrible profs and classes likewise. It was kinds of people I never want to see again and people I worry I'll never see again. It was great. So go out and have fun, Dukies. Get a good new President: I hear Barry Scerbo's still looking for a job. On a frozen day, fill the Bryan Center Walkway with water and ice skate up and down. Go eat breakfast at the U Room in your bathrobe. Make fun of opposing players, even if people tell you not to (even Coach K). Play drunken leapfrog through the Bryan Center late at night. Do whatever the hell you want. See ya...

Stories are for joining the past and the future. Stories are for those late hours in the night when you can't remember how you got from where you were to where you are. Stories are for eternity, when memory is erased, when there is nothing to remember except the story.

The cover of the 1992 Chanticleer was made with a 150 point Brilliantia cover. The endsheets were on 80lb. paper. Senior Portraits were taken by Varden Studios, Rochester, New York. The black and white photographs in the 2nd and 19th signatures were duotone PMS 157. The black and white photographs in the 4th, 5th, 6th, and 18th signatures were duotone PMS 479. The black and white photographs in the Academic, Sports and Portrait Section are laser-scanned halftones. All color photographs were printed in four color from color transparencies. All photos were reproduced on a 175 line screen. The Chanticleer used two types of paper, 90lb. Eloquence and 80lb. MOE. Copyright 1992, Duke University Undergraduate Publications Board. Dean took out other pictures. I realized these were all the snapshots which our children would look at someday with wonder, thinking their parents had lived smooth, well-ordered, stabilized-within-the-photo lives and got up in the morning to walk proudly on the sidewalks of life, never dreaming

the raggedy
madness and riot
of our actual
lives, our actual night, the hell of
it, the senseless
nightmare road.
All of it inside
endless and
beginningless
emptiness.
